

HOW TO HELP YOUR CAT HAVE PLEASANT VETERINARY VISITS

Fear is the primary cause of misbehaviour. Knowing this can help prevent problematic veterinary visits..

Getting the Cat into the Carrier:

- Keep the carrier out in the home.
- Put treats inside the carrier.
- Train cats to view the carrier as a safe haven and “home away from home”.
- Being able to put your cat into a carrier quickly is crucial in case of disaster or emergency.
- Carriers that have both the top and front open are most ideal.
- Top-loading carriers allow for stress-free placement and removal of the cat.
- A removable carrier top enables cats to be examined while remaining in the bottom half of the carrier.
- Do not “dump” a cat out of the carrier.

Adjusting to Car Rides:

- Always put the cat in a carrier or other safe container.
- Take the cat for regular car rides, beginning with very short ones, to places other than a veterinary hospital.
- To prevent car sickness, do not feed before traveling.
- Reward verbally with positive attention and with treats.

Pleasant Veterinary Visits:

- Bring along the cat’s favourite treats, toys and blanket.
- Perform regular home maintenance procedures, including grooming, nail trimming, and teeth brushing.
- “Play vet” procedures that mimic temperature taking, ear cleaning, and pilling can help cats better adjust to the veterinary hospital and to future home care when necessary.
- Regular trips to the veterinary hospital for “fun” visits involving no examinations or procedures provide owners and staff with the opportunity to reward the cat with praise and treats
